

TigerTalk

November 20, 2020

This is not Dr. Dan Endorf with TigerTalk. Rather, this is Mrs. Petersen with your weekly message about the NBC Risk Dial. The district will move into the ORANGE Zone for the risk dial next week due to the hospital load in our area as well as county and health department risk dials that continue to trend in the wrong direction.

Both buildings will have very few modifications to school day procedures as we have found restrictions made back in September were beneficial to the functionality of school in a pandemic and never relaxed these measures due to these positive results. Nevertheless, the shortened week that approaches will be held in the Orange Zone. Along those lines, please have a happy Thanksgiving and remember that we dismiss all students at 1:30 on Wednesday for the holiday break. Please celebrate the holiday safely, and as Dr. Endorf says, Go Tigers!
